UNITED STATES PATENT AND TRADEMARK OFFICE Trademark Trial and Appeal Board

Thank you for your email received on March 31, 2015.

RE: Proceeding Number 91209194

It has been my understanding that the United States Patent and Trademark Office suspended all proceedings in this matter in the fall of 2013. I have received nothing to date to indicate that those proceedings are now in motion again. It should be clearly noted that the applicant has no loss of interest in the proceeding. In fact our interest remains as strong as it always has been.

At this time, I will represent myself pro se.

Additionally, it should be noted that 5 Continent Inc. is the owner of an Exclusive License and Manufacturing Agreement and has since June of 2012 with a related company that held the same license commencing on July 10th, 2009 when we acquired the PuckMaster business. It reads in part as follows.

“Puckmaster Intellectual Property” means all right, title and interest of Licensor in any and all (i) inventions (whether patentable or unpatentable and whether or not reduced to practice), all improvements thereto, and all patents, patent applications and patent disclosures, together with all reissuances, continuations, continuations in part, revisions, extensions and reexaminations thereof; (ii) trademarks, service marks, trade dress, logos, trade names, assumed names and corporate names, together with all translations, adaptations, derivations and combinations thereof and including all goodwill associated therewith, and all applications, registrations and renewals in connection therewith; (iii) copyrightable works, all copyrights and all applications, registrations and renewals in connection therewith; (iv) mask works and all applications, registrations and renewals in connection therewith; (v) trade secrets and confidential business information (including ideas, research and development, Know-How, technology, formulas, compositions, manufacturing and production processes and techniques, technical data, designs, drawings, specifications, customer and supplier lists, pricing and cost information and business and marketing plans and proposals); (vi) computer software (including data and related software program documentation in computer readable and hard copy forms); (vii) other intellectual property and proprietary rights of any kind, nature or description, including web sites, web site domain names and other e-commerce assets and resources of any kind or nature; and (viii) copies or tangible embodiments thereof (in whatever form or medium).

Under the exclusive license agreement, 5 Continent Inc. owns a perpetual, exclusive, irrevocable license to the Puckmaster Intellectual Property. The License includes the right to use the technical knowledge, unpatented inventions, manufacturing secrets, secret processes, formulae, manufacturing specifications and procedures and methods pertaining to the manufacture, sale or application of products based on the Intellectual Property, collectively called ("Puckmaster Know-How").

It is my understanding that PuckMaster LLC is no longer in the business of manufacturing or selling PuckMaster systems and has not since late June or early July 2014.

I am available to discuss further and am seeking your guidance on how I must move forward.

Thanks in advance.
